WIDE INTEREST

PEOPLE OF ALL CLASSES LOOK FAVORABLY ON CIVIC CENTER PROJECT

The interest in the civic center project is apparently universal. There seems to be no opposition. The general sentiment is that the civic center is a community necessity and every one is boosting the bonds.

Every church, school, club and lodge has received literature to distribute and the project has been discussed among the members of each of these organizations. One of the most successful means employed in getting the subject before the people is the sending of literature into the homes by the school children.

Mrs. H. E. Bartlett and the other ladies of the Tuesday Afternoon club have given impetus to the movement by very effective window cards.

Windshield banners in red letters on a white background also call attention to the proposed bond issue in a very striking manner. They may be secured at the Monarch Auto Supply company, and are to be had for the asking.

The statement that Glendale is growing faster than any other Southern California city is perhaps growing trite. Yet it is a statement that may be made once more in this connection, and its force as related to the campaign for civic center bonds is this: As a town grows, old neighbors and friends see less and less of each other; there are more strangers about one, and gradually families and also individuals hold aloof from each other, lose that delightful atmosphere of brotherly friendliness which they were wont to enjoy in the days when the community was smaller. In other words, they are apt to lose community interest when they gain in numbers, and at last when the town has grown to a city, they have grown cold and selfish and suspicious of one another. Go into any large city where you are a stranger and you will feel this chilling, discouraging atmosphere. It explains why wise people prefer the smaller communities as dwelling places.

A civic center, whither we are drawn by a community interest, will preserve for Glendale that delightful atmosphere of friendly interest in each other which is one of her chiefest charms. This is not an unproven theory, but one that has been demonstrated by Red Cross work in the cities during war time. Men and women who lived in the same city block or perhaps even in the same apartment house, knowing nothing of each other and caring nothing were drawn together in an earnest work at a time of desperate need. They learned to know each other and consequently to feel for each other. Women imbued with the class spirit, working side by side with other women in different circumstances in life, had their eyes opened to the fact that, after all, "the Colonel's lady and Judy O'Grady are sisters under their skin." And who will say that this broadening influence was not one of the chief benefits of the Red Cross work, though not its prime motive?

Any community interest will tend toward the fostering and developing of this great human sympathy. Surely the interest every right-minded man and woman feels in the child and his proper environment, whether that child be his own or not, must have this tendency; 'tis a quality that blesses him that gives and him that takes.

OHIO NEIGHBORS

CARVER AND BILLINGS FAMILIES, AGAIN NEIGHBORS, IN CALIFORNIA

When A. A. Carver and family came out to California a few months ago from Saville, Ohio, a friend of Mr. Carver living at Elyria, 40 miles distant, B. M. Billings by name, said he and his wife and two children would follow ere long. Mr. Carver bought the Goetz place at 721 South Brand, with nearly an acre of ground, and thought to settle down to raising chickens as a pastime. It proved a little too strenuous for him, however, and when the Billings family arrived last Sunday and were cordially welcomed as guests until they could find a place to live, Mr. Billings, after looking the place over, decided it was just what he wanted, so he bought it. Mr. Carver then bought the old Searles place at 610 South Verdugo Road of Dan Tracy, the grocerteria man on East Broadway, who had owned it only a few months, and will move in Monday. Dan has not yet bought elsewhere, but expects to soon.

OLD TIMEPIECE

J. T. CRAMPTON RECEIVED FROM ENGLAND GRANDFATHER CLOCK, FAMILY HEIRLOOM

To the home of J. T. Crampton, 325 Burchett street, there has recently come from England a treasure in the shape of a real grandfather's clock, which has been in the family many, many years. It was the property, during his lifetime, of Mr. Crampton's father, who received it as a wedding gift from his own father, seventy-five years ago. It was left to J. T. Crampton of Glendale, but for various reasons, the last one being the recent war, it had to remain in England several years. It stands about seven and a half feet high. The case is of English oak, with trimmings of mahogany, brass, and inlaid designs. On its arrival it was placed in the living room of the Crampton home, set in motion, and is keeping perfect time.

When it started on its journey here it was put in the hands of a brokerage company at Liverpool, England, with instructions to ship it via the Panama Canal to Port Los Angeles, in care of the customs collector; and an interesting feature of this transaction was the ridiculously small amount it cost to bring it; for, including packing, railroad freight, steamship charges, insurance, brokerage, and express at this end, the whole amount was only $22.50.

Public Declaration

To the Editor of the Glendale Evening News:—

Regarding the letter appearing in your last issue by Owen C. Emery, containing a statement that I am "absolutely opposed to the candidacy of Mr. Randall" I feel it incumbent upon me to make this declaration: In the first place Mr. Emery is mistaken. While I am a supporter of Mr. Van de Water it should not be taken for granted that I am "absolutely opposed" to Mr. Randall. This leads me to my final statement, namely: Mr. Randall and Mr. Van de Water are both men of unquestioned Christian character. Both, in my judgment, are men who stand for the principles of temperance and Prohibition. The main difference in the alignment that has been formed, in my judgment, is from the fact that one appears on the Democratic ticket while the other is on the Republican ticket. C. M. CRIST.

CLEAR STATEMENT

CHAS. F. VAN DE WATER GIVES VIEWS ON GLENDALE POST-OFFICE MATTER

Right to the point, clear cut and convincing, with no hasty, ill-advised promises not certain of fulfillment, is the following letter of Mr. Van de Water, Republican candidate for Congress in the Ninth District, regarding an independent postoffice for Glendale:

Long Beach, Cal.,
October 29, 1920.

Mr. S. L. Thomas,
123 N. Brand Blvd.,
Glendale, Cal.

My Dear Mr. Thomas:

The questions propounded by you, relative to the postoffice situation in Glendale, are exceedingly important, involving as they do the matter of adequate mail facilities for a city as important as yours.

It is my purpose to never make any statements that may prove to be ill-considered or ill-advised and I wish there were more time available for a thorough investigation of the underlying conditions. Further, it is always my preference to accomplish things first and talk about them afterward.

The highly unsatisfactory conditions affecting your mail service are the result of the policy of economy of the administration. It is my belief that Glendale can secure the independent mail service to which the city is justly entitled and if elected as the representative of the Ninth Congressional District, I shall most assuredly do everything in my power to secure for you the proper facilities.

It is a significant fact that San Pedro was to have been placed on the same basis as Glendale in point of mail facilities and much more logically after annexation by the city of Los Angeles, but Congressman Osborne strenaously opposed the program and San Pedro maintains its independent postoffice.

Assuring you of my earnest desire to co-operate with the people of this district in every matter of interest to them, whether great or small, I am

Sincerely yours,
CHAS. F. VAN DE WATER.

"LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS BIG FRAUD"---DEBS

By EUGENE V. DEBS
(Written for the United Press)
(Copyright 1920)

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 30.—This will be my last word in the presidential campaign. It is enough for me to have been one of the standard bearers of the working class. I regret not having been able to meet voters face to face.

Every man and woman who votes either the Democratic or Republican ticket Tuesday next registers approval of Wall Street and opposition to the people.

The League of Nations is the biggest fraud of all. Its purpose is to make up the insignificant ruling and robbing minority of several nations and entrench international capitalism more securely to insure perpetual minority rule and exploitation of the world.

The issue is revolution of reaction.

MEXICAN GOVERNMENT WINS RECOGNITION

REPRESENTATIVES OF MEXICAN REGIME DECLARE VIRTUAL PROMISE GIVEN BY SEC'Y. COLBY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—Recognition of the principal allies will be won by the new Mexican government as the result of a virtual promise of recognition given by Secretary Colby yesterday, representatives of the new Mexican regime here declared today.

Colby's statement yesterday said that from reports received from the new government, recognition by the United States seemed likely for an early date.

Several South American countries have already recognized Mexico, but Great Britain, France and other allies have withheld, pending action of the United States.

FUNERAL SERVICES TO BE HELD IN CORK TOMORROW; NO MILITARY DISPLAY PERMITTED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CORK, Ireland, Oct. 30.—Terence MacSwiney's body today lay in state in the City Hall here where he had presided as Mayor, after a hectic day in which the casket was the cause of fist fights and was finally claimed by relatives and taken to the place of honor.

The MacSwiney mourning party reached here late yesterday several hours after the body arrived from Queenstown.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow. Officials have announced strict regulations governing the funeral, and no military display will be permitted.

BIG ELIMINATION CONTESTS TO BE STAGED

BIG FOOTBALL GAMES SCHEDULED FOR TODAY AT PALO ALTO, CORVALLIS AND CLAREMONT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Oregon, California and U. S. C. were favorites in the three games.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30.—Stephen Kashaturian, 50, was in a critical condition at the receiving hospital today from injuries received when he was brutally beaten with a plank in his bed some time during the night. Kashaturian was found by neighbors early today and rushed to the hospital, where it was feared he would not live. No motive was known for the attack, police said.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

MIDDLETOWN, O., Oct. 30.—Speaking in Governor Cox's birthplace, Senator Harding today declared he had nothing to apologize for and merely appealed to the intelligence of the electorate. He made a brief rear platform talk here today while on the last lap of his campaign in Ohio.

NINETEEN MEMBERS OF CREW ARE MISSING

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEWPORT, R. I., Oct. 30.—Nineteen members of the concrete steamer Cape Fear, which was sunk in a collision with the steamer City of Atlanta in Narragansett Bay, are missing today and believed to have been drowned. The Cape Fear is a shipping board vessel and sunk within three minutes after the collision. The City of Atlanta was badly damaged.

GREAT CONVENTION

REV. C. A. COLE RETURNS HOME FROM ST. LOUIS MEETING OF MINISTERS

Rev. C. A. Cole arrived at home last night from his trip to St. Louis, Mo., to attend the annual convention of the Christian churches of the United States and Canada. He left home Monday, Oct. 11th, and his first stop was at Hutchinson, Kansas, to visit relatives and he went thence to Wichita, where he stayed till Saturday when he went to Abilene, the scene of his first pastorate, and preached in the church he helped to build. On Monday he continued his journey to St. Louis, and was present at every session of the great convention. On Sunday last he preached in the Compton Heights church, for which he ministered for the four years preceding his coming to Glendale. He says the house was crowded to the doors, despite the fact that a heavy rain was falling and he had the pleasure of greeting many of his old friends and former parishioners. He started back Monday and the journey home proved uneventful.

To Discuss Amendments

The Evening News is asked to give space to the following announcement:

There will be an open meeting, Monday evening, Nov. 1st, at F. C. Merrick's residence, 332 Milford St., to discuss, pro and con, the several amendments, that the voters will pass upon the following day. If you are stationary on any question, come and teach others. If you are in doubt of the meaning of any of the amendments, come and learn from others.

It was Franklin who said, "As we must account for every idle word, so we must account for every idle silence." Come.

League of Nations

There was quite a large crowd at the High School Auditorium last evening to hear the debate on the League of Nations under the auspices of the American Legion Post. Capt. Dru Nicoles presided at the meeting. From some misunderstanding the debator opposing the League failed to arrive, but Mattison B. Jones, the pro-League champion, was on hand and presented his argument very clearly and forcibly. He was accorded a courteous hearing and was given frequent applause.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

MRS. WEST OF NORFOLK, VIRGINIA, HONOREE OF GATHERING AT BRISTOW HOME

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Harwood Bristow, 203 East Chestnut St., was the scene of much merrymaking Friday evening. A Hallowe'en party was given in honor of Mrs. E. T. West of Norfolk, Va. Mrs. West is a sister of Mrs. Bristow, and has been visiting her the past four weeks. The charming guest of honor wore a richly embroidered black satin gown with vivid orange trimmings, which was in accord with the decorations. Witches, jack-o'-lanterns and black cats peeped out from every corner of the rooms. After a sumptuous repast, in which fried chicken, cooked Southern style, was the "piece de resistance," the guests gathered about the open fireplace, lights were turned out, and a "real" ghost and a witch appeared on the scene. An enjoyable evening was brought to a close at midnight after various games and pleasantries.

Those present were Mrs. J. T. Crampton and daughter Grace, Mrs. Mabel Meibergen, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. H. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Isitt, Miss Sara F. Cook of New York, Miss G. Forrest, Mrs. E. T. West, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hallett and Mr. and Mrs. Harwood Bristow.

Mrs. West, who is the wife of a prominent steamship man in Norfolk, declares she loves our beautiful city, for she has found the folks of Glendale so hospitable and congenial that she hasn't had time to get homesick.

Superior Court Judges

Many people recently have been asking who, among the seventeen candidates for full term, are now on the Superior Court bench. For the information of these the names of the ten incumbents are given. They are: Charles Crail, Leslie R. Hewitt, Grant Jackson, Charles Monroe, Louis D. Myers, Sidney N. Reeve, John W. Shenk, Albert Lee Stephens, Fred H. Taft, Frank R. Willis.

JOLLY PARTY

NEW HOME DEDICATED WITH BARN DANCE AND HALLOWE'EN JINX

"There was a sound of revelry by night" on Thursday evening, and it emanated from the new double bungalow Manuel Glass is building near the corner of East Wilson avenue and Adams; but the next lines of the quotation are not applicable, for 'twas not the beauty and the chivalry of Belgium's capital or even of Glendale that assembled there. Thirty guests transformed for the nonce from staid, respectable citizens of Glendale to hobos, gypsies, and rustics so green you'd have no trouble at all in selling them a gold brick made merry in delightful but unwonted manner.

The party was planned by Mrs. Glass, and while the Hallowe'en motif was carried out to some extent, it was blended with the "back East" idea of a barn dance and was reminiscent also of the harvest festival of Mrs. Glass' home in England in the days of long ago.

The house being in process of construction, its unfinished condition favored the barn dance idea. The rustic effect was carried out with garlands of onions, turnips, beets and other vegetables which decorated the walls, while huge grinning jack-o'-lanterns that filled the unfinished fireplace and grinned merrily from the corners of the rooms kept the festivities in the Hallowe'en class.

One part of the large open space in the bungalow was the dance hall where they all danced, old folks and young together, and children mingled among them. Mr. Good of Dayton Court, brought his jazz band. A piano to the accompaniment of which all the party sang was another attraction.

But speaking of attractions, for some of the guests at least, the other end of the house shared favor with the dance. For in this corner were the rustic tables groaning with their load of goodies; hot baked sweet potatoes and a long line of pumpkin, apple and mince pies, baked by Mrs. Glass, were set out in tempting array; doughnuts, lemonade and a bounteous store of other good things were there, too.

Besides the dancing, there were games, music and a pie-eating contest, and the merry-making was kept up till the wee sma' hours.

Mary Jane Gillette

In anticipation of the first annual inspection on November 9, the meeting of Mary Jane Gillette Tent, Daughters of Veterans, Tuesday evening was well attended and preparations made for this important occasion. Considerable business was transacted and the following Sons of Veterans were obligated as associate members: Capt. George O. Lockwood and Charles F. Parker. Announcement was made that the sewing club, known as the Nimble-Fingers, will hold their next meeting at the residence of Miss Ruth Hafford, on North Central Axenue, Tuesday evening, November 2. Immediately following the business meeting the usual social hour was had, to the enjoyment of all. The occasion was enlivened by music, also refreshments consisting of coffee and doughnuts.

PARADE FOR BONDS

INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL CHILDREN TO MARCH, SING AND YELL FOR CIVIC CENTER

Monday afternoon, between 4:30 and 5 p. m., the boys and girls of Intermediate school, led by their teachers, will parade some of the principal streets of the city, carrying banners, giving class yells and boosting for the civic center bond issue. Many auto loads of the elder people are expected to be in the parade, also. The school children, from the lowest grade clear up to the High School are taking great interest in the carrying of the bond issue and to make their appeal as strong as possible are going to sing, to the tune of "Over There," the following words:

Listen here, Listen here,
Have a heart, do your part, please be fair,
At the polls tomorrow, don't bring us sorrow,
Your vote will tell us how you care.
So prepare, to be fair
To the boys and girls who are here;
Put it over, oh, put it over,
You will vote YES, YES, on your ballot if you care.

Think Twice

On your November ballot is an unjust law. It is Initiative No. 1 known as the Alien Land Law.

¶ It aims to dispossess a helpless minority of aliens industriously tilling California's soil.

¶ The State Board of Control reports that Japanese cultivated 458,056 acres last year. California has an area of 99,617,280 acres of which about 28,000,000 is farm land.

¶ Of this vast farm land only 1.6 per cent is cultivated by Japanese. Upon this 1.6 per cent they produce 13 per cent of California's total food output.

¶ Their produce is valued at $67,000,000, of which 35 per cent is paid land owners as rentals and 45 per cent to labor as wages. The balance of 20 per cent is the reward for Japanese tenants and contractors.

¶ The Japanese have taken up much of the worst land and made it fertile, thus helping to reduce the cost of food for the city worker.

¶ With effective restriction of Japanese immigration now being considered at Washington, there need be no fear that the small Japanese population now here will ever become a dominating element.

¶ The present Japanese population is only 2.2 per cent of the total. The highest Japanese birth rate is only 7.4 per cent of the whole as against 90.8 per cent of American births.

¶ Within a few years Japanese births will become even less, because [1] immigrants, irrespective of race, have fewer children after the first generation; [2] the average age of Japanese male adults now here is about 40; [3] the abolition of "picture marriages" will make it more difficult for Japanese to marry; [4] the arrivals of Japanese will decrease as the result of present diplomatic negotiations.

¶ The Japanese have long since ceased to compete with American labor, but this initiative, if passed, will drive them from the land and compel them to compete with American Labor in the cities, seriously cutting food production.

¶ Labor's interest in this question is defined in the following recommendations by the Stockton Labor Council and Building Trades Council, and the Sacramento Federated Trades Council; "[1] absolute restriction of all alien immigration; [2] no fight to be made upon any person or persons who are legal residents of the United States; [3] organize all workers who are capable of taking a union man's job; [4] we do not favor the removal of the Oriental from land to the industries."

¶ According to the 1920 census, population of our cities in the last decade increased 25.2 per cent.. while the population of farm territories increased only 3.2 per cent.

¶ Yet this Alien Land Law seeks to drive the natural farmers from the soil, condemn into idleness 400,000 acres of land now highly productive, and decrease California's annual food production by $67,000,000.

¶ The Japanese is not the kind of an immigrant who comes here intending to "make a stake" and return to his own country. He is here to take his part in the economic life of the state, honorably and industriously, paying taxes, and helping to support our social institutions, our roads, our schools and local governments.

¶ Our sense of decency and fairness enjoins us to deal justly with these Japanese, insisting, at the same time, through the Federal Government upon the prevention of further influx of oriental immigration.

¶ Vote NO on Initiative No. 1 on November 2.

"Do not burn down your neighbor's swine shelters in order to get roast pig for nothing," says an ancient proverb. But the anti-single taxers are trying today to destroy the people's State Initiative law (by No. 4 bill) in order to maintain land and money profiteering. Voters take warning. J. Moody on Single Tax

The following is from a letter to Mr. William C. deMille, written by John Moody, the Wall Street banker, statistician, investment expert and author. His name is known throughout the business world; hence his opinions pertaining to finance and taxation carry great weight.

"I have read with considerable interest a pamphlet entitled Destructive Effect of Single Tax circulated by the opponents of single tax in your state. As a practical business man and student of methods of taxation in general I am amazed that such an array of silly "reasons" should be presented to oppose so sound, effective and logical a reform as is advocated by you and your friends. . . .

It is asserted that if Amendment number 20 should carry, "it would destroy the loan value of real estate. All bonds and mortgages based on land security would be worthless."

This assertion is not only inaccurate, it is distinctly false. An accurate statement of the matter should read: It would make impossible speculative orgies in real estate. All attempts of speculators to inflate the value of land and foist speculative securities on an innocent investing public would be definitely prevented." . . .

It is further asserted that, should the amendment carry, "it would overturn our entire commercial system."

No, a mere State amendment would not do this, but a full application of the single tax throughout society would undoubtedly bring about some profound changes in our commercial system. For example, it would make it impossible for speculators, get-rich-quick men and other schemers to hood-wink the great American public to "invest" a billion dollars or more every year in fictitious values in mines, oil-wells and other fraudulent schemes: It would make it impossible for real-estate speculators and owners to so manipulate supply and demand as to "hold up" the entire populations of great cities, as they are now doing, in doubling and quadrupling rents in every center of population from the Atlantic to the Pacific. . . . The poor man would no longer be at the mercy of the rich man when it came to the question of housing himself and family.—Adv.

Ask Justice for Japanese

To the Voters of Glendale, Greeting:

We, the undersigned, who are deeply interested in the Japanese, who are in this country under Treaty Rights, respectfully and earnestly request you to vote "No" at the coming election on Amendment No. 1, said Amendment being entitled, "The Alien Land Bill," the object being to prohibit the Japanese from leasing land. We feel sure that such a measure, if enacted, will not only complicate the relations between Japan and the United States, but will prove to be a very serious handicap to the Japanese now living in the United States under Treaty Rights. All such problems must be settled by the National Government at Washington and not by any one or more States.

As many of the Japanese have wives and children, they will be greatly inconvenienced, as they will not be able to make a living, and thus properly care for their loved ones. And we believe such a drastic measure will not only inflict a serious injury upon the Japanese, but upon Americans themselves; for they are largely dependent upon the Japanese for their vegetables and fruits.

Therefore, we bespeak for these our brothers and sisters, and their children, of "Japanese descent," clear-minded consideration and Christian sympathy. So please vote "No" on Amendment No. 1, both for the welfare and honor of Japanese and Americans. The Japanese do not object so much to restriction and regulation of immigration, but to discrimination among Aliens living in this country—all under Treaty Rights.

We have prepared this circular at the request of the Japanese Christians in Glendale and their fellow countrymen.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE PRAISES RANDALL'S RECORD

"In the Ninth Congressional District, Hon. Charles H. Randall is opposed by C. F. Van de Water. Both are dry. Mr. Randall's congressional record on this question has been superb, a national benefaction and worthy of the gratitude of his constituents."—From statement of Anti-Saloon League.—Adv. 47t6

VAN DE WATER APPROVED BY ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

The Anti-Saloon League officially announces that both candidates for Congress in the 9th District are dry, and "each individual will vote as he or she pleases." Neither Randall nor Van de Water are endorsed, but the statement closes in this language: "Mr. Van de Water has a flawless record also both locally and officially as a dry worker and advocate." This frank statement on the part of the Anti-Saloon League should convince the most ardent dry Republican that it is his or her duty to vote for the Republican nominee, Mr. Charles F. Van de Water for Congress.—Adv. 47t6

RETURN RANDALL TO CONGRESS

Not only dry, but experienced. An experienced chauffeur, bank clerk or manager is preferred to inexperienced men. Why not apply this safe rule in selecting a Congressman? Return Randall. "He knows the business of a Congressman." See display ad elsewhere.

Senator Piles to Speak

The Republican rally and parade this evening will wind up at Broadway and Orange, where Hon. Samuel H. Piles of the state of Washington will deliver an address on the issues of the day. He is a brilliant, logical speaker, as those who heard him recently in Glendale will testify. He will discuss the momentous questions confronting the voters in a calm, logical manner, using no abusive terms, but setting forth all matters clearly and forcibly. He will undoubtedly be heard by a large crowd. This speaking will be at 5 o'clock, near the corner of Broadway and Orange.

WINS THIRD GAME

GLENDALE HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL TEAM BEATS SOUTH PASADENA 21 TO 0

The Glendale Union High School football team won its third consecutive game yesterday afternoon from the South Pasadena High School eleven before a very large crowd of enthusiastic rooters. Lefty Herman was again the star, making two touchdowns, one in the first and the other in the third quarter. McGillis made a touchdown in the last quarter. Goals were kicked each time by Herman, making the score for Glendale 21, while their opponents were blanked. Herman was knocked down in a close play and somewhat stunned, but soon recovered and resumed play. Coach Hayhurst has certainly gotten together a strong team this year. The lineup is as follows.

Denison	Center and Captain
Meeker	Right End
Anthony	Right Tackle
Dutcher	Right Guard
Weetman	Left Guard
Herman	Right Half Back
Chandler	Full Back
McGillis	Quarter Back

SIERRA AVENUE

P. S. M'NUTT ASKS THAT PROPER DESIGNATION APPEAR IN DIRECTORY

P. S. McNutt of 1001 Sierra avenue addressed to the Evening News the following cordial communication:

"Dear News:—I see you are getting out another good city directory and ask for suggestions. Well, here is one: Our street, Sierra avenue, should be represented in your map and in your directory. You overlooked us in your last one. Sierra avenue has been a street in Glendale ever since 1906, the date of incorporation, and the city has maintained a signboard all that time at the entrance of the avenue giving its name.

"The people here fixed the name in 1906 and it has been officially designated as Sierra avenue though that was not necessary. There is no Scholl Canyon Road. It is Sierra avenue to the gate of the Scholl ranch. They drive through this ranch but no road is opened."

The Evening News is glad to secure this information from Mr. McNutt and appreciates the spirit of helpfulness shown. It will be the endeavor of the Evening News to have everything in the new directory correct, street names and people's names.

Whose Judgment?

Editor Glendale Evening News:

A recent libelous folder issued by a certain camouflaged "movement" says: "Judge Sidney N. Reeve is not qualified in any way to be a judge."

However, last Monday night at the Los Angeles Bar Association banquet Hon. Curtis D. Wilbur of the State Supreme Court, in criticizing the recent propaganda against four superior court judges, said: "In my opinion Judge Sidney N. Reeve is one of the ablest and most sincere juvenile court judges that ever presided at a bench."

Only last August Justice Wilbur in a letter to Judge Reeve said: "My own judgment is that Los Angeles has the best juvenile court department in the United States and that you have met the extremely difficult questions involved in its administration with commendable success."

Shall we in marking our ballots take the expert qualified judgment of such a great man as Judge Wilbur or that of certain disappointed persons with a motive?

Let the fair-minded citizens of Glendale while they are helping to elect Hartley Shaw to the short term also consider the needs of the Juvenile Court and re-elect honest, competent, hard-working Judge Sidney Reeve to the position he has so ably filled for the past six years.

Sincerely,

—Adv. W. D. ROOT.

MR. TOWER EXPLAINS

Editor Glendale News:—With your kind permission I take this opportunity of explaining in as few words as possible the why and wherefore of using the blank side of 15 discarded business cards of a Los Angeles real estate firm to write invitations on to attend a conference held in the Glendale postoffice on the morning of Thursday, Oct. 28th. I used them for one purpose and one purpose only—because they had a good, smooth, blank side, large enough to hold the writing and they saved better paper, with no thought or regard for what was on the other side. On Wednesday at noon a phone message was given me from Congressman Randall stating that such a conference would be held and requesting that public notice be given so that any one having suggestions to make could be present. The Evening News having gone to press I had to employ other means. Notices were given over the phone to the four banks, to the Chamber of Commerce, Greater Glendale Development Association, the public press and others. Notices were written on 15 to 18 cards, as follows: "Conference at the Glendale P. O. today at 11 a. m. with Postmaster Harrington Brown. Kindly be present." These I handed out on Thursday morning to business men whom I thought might be interested, acting entirely on my own initiative, without the least thought that I was advertising the Los Angeles real estate firm whose name was on the other side. I will leave it to any fair-minded person of normal political temperature to judge if there is any evidence to convict any one of wrong doing. I am reminded of that proverb, "Behold what a great matter a little fire kindleth." Now a word about the three blank Methodist subscription cards that were used. During the past year or so the First M. E. church of Glendale has carried on a number of successful financial drives and have used hundreds of subscription cards and any man actively connected with the church is apt to have several in his pockets or on his desk. I had several and used them with above invitation written on the back. Any wrong doing in that? Anything despicable? Only in the mind of the accusing pettifogger and his partisan associates. If any one of the three persons receiving the Methodist subscription blank cards will return the cards to me with his name signed for a good subscription I will forgive him for any unkind or unpleasant thoughts or words he may harbor.

Yours for a better and independent postoffice in Glendale,

W. F. TOWER.

P. E. O. GREET B. I. L.'S

THE LATTER ENTERTAINED WITH HIGH JINKS BY LADIES OF CHAPTER L

One of the most unique and enjoyable functions of the season was the evening party given by Chapter L, P. E. O., to the B. I. L.'s, at the home of Mrs. Margaret Gregg, 240 North Central avenue, Friday evening. The home was beautifully decorated by the Decorating Committee, Mrs. Lida Border and Mrs. Nell Maxwell, in Hallowe'en colors and emblems. Of especial beauty was the center-piece on the dining room table, which was composed of a large pumpkin, corn tassels, apples, autumn vines and leaves. Witches, black cats and streamers were artistically arranged throughout the house.

The Entertainment Committee, Mrs. Lida Border, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Ann P. Bartlett, Mrs. Nell Maxwell, Mrs. Dorothy Weller, Miss Margaret Lusby, Misses Isabel Isgrigg and Waunita Emery, had sent out original poem invitations to the B. I. L.'s and P. E. O.'s. The P. E. O.'s were to meet at the home of Mrs. Gregg at 7:30, and the B. I L.'s at the home of Mrs. Cora Temple at eight, and the latter were then marched to the home of Mrs. Gregg at 8:15. If late, a penalty was added.

At 7:30, at the home of Mrs. Gregg, the P. E. O.'s were busy with sheets and pillow cases, and soon the house was filled with ghosts. They waited for the B. I. L.'s, and finally telephoned to the home of Mrs. Temple for them. When informed of the penalty attached for being late, they marched down to the home of the Greggs. Then the P. E. O.'s found that more than one group could work out a surprise, for they all were masked. The B. I. L.'s marched in in single file and were met by two ghosts who showed them the way upstairs. Not a P. E. O. was to be seen. Then the B. I. L.'s were marched downstairs by the ghost guides and were seated. The ghost march then commenced, accompanied by choruses of groans, sighs and clanking of chains. Each officer carried some implement of torture. When all were assembled in the room, Most High Chief Mrs. Border asked the Head Guard to see if all gentlemen present were B. I. L.'s, and was informed that "Interest" Dan Campbell, "Eloquent" Frank Weller and "Hardman" David Gregg were not B. I. L.'s. The guards were ordered by the Most High Chief to bring them forward. Although masked, they were found and given a weird and original initiation into the B. I. L.'s by the High Chief, Mrs. Border, assisted by the ghosts of the Entertainment Committee.

After the initiation the B. I. L.'s were told to find their own wives. This some succeeded in doing, but others found upon unmasking that they had someone else's wife, much to the merriment of the crowd. During the ceremonies Miss Isabel Isgrigg sang "Little Orphant Annie" and gave a whistling solo. Hallowe'en games and pantomimes of the different vocations in life were given by the B. I. L.'s. The game of "Warble" was enjoyed by all.

At the close of the evening delicious refreshments of home-made pie a-la-mode, doughnuts, apples and coffee were served by the Refreshment Committee, Mrs. Margaret Gregg, Mrs. Edith Huntley and Mrs. Lunette Hunt.

If Machines Wear Out, What of Mothers?

If machines wear out, what of Mothers? Machines can be replaced. Mothers never.

Why not let our washing machines do your family washing and save Mother's strength for more important things?

We can obtain new laundry equipment when ours wears out—but you can't fill Mother's place in the home. Save her by having us take the washing off her shoulders.

We gently souse your linens up and down in fluffy suds made of warm, soft water and pure white soap, until they are spotlessly clean. Our washing process saves the fabric of your garments and better still, adds years to Mother's life.

Phone and one of our drivers will call.

GROUP A FETED

YOUNG PEOPLE OF CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR GIVEN HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McCormick of 539 North Jackson very pleasantly entertained group A of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian church, with a Hallowe'en party.

The guests were met on the front porch by two small ghosts in the persons of Helen McCormick and Mary Criswell, while inside the door was a black monster in peaked cap ready to give each a glad hand. He proved to be Master Frederick McCormick.

The decorations were in keeping with the occasion, black cats being very much in evidence.

Mr. Van Loon, president of the organization, conducted a short business meeting, after which Mrs. Retts sang two numbers and the male quartette, composed of Messrs. Henry Lawrence, Earl McCormick, Glenn Porter and George Lemon, also sang.

Chas. Nelson proved himself a veritable store-house of Biblical lore, and he propounded conundrums which kept the company in a continual round of laughter.

Refreshments were served by the host and hostess and the merry party departed at a late hour, each one taking home a catalogue of the art exhibition, and declaring Mr. and Mrs. McCormick royal entertainers.

Endorse Judge Shenk

Many prominent citizens of Glendale are sharing the belief that when a Judge has discharged his public trust with fidelity and ability, he should be retained on the bench. REALTY BOARD

MEETING HELD LAST EVENING—TALK ON ESCROW BUSINESS HEARD

The Glendale Realty Board held its meeting as advertised, last night, in Judge Miller's office. The governing committee met first and received Mr. Endicott, Mr. Larson and Mr. Kulp as new members. The Board then assembled and after reports of committees were heard and discussed, all listened very profitably to a talk by E. L. Farmer, chief escrow clerk for a title and trust company in Los Angeles, which was comprehensive, interesting and instructive. He explained the plan and purpose of the escrow and showed how the escrow agent could safeguard both sides to a transaction. Many questions were asked and answered.

The Board accepted the offer of the First National Bank of the space formerly occupied in its main room by the escrow department for a bureau of information.

The housing question was discussed and it was brought out that a fund would be needed for the purpose of providing temporary accommodations for intending residents, so a finance committee will be appointed for this purpose at the next meeting.

There were 25 present at the meeting.

Tribute to Mrs. Westlake

The untimely death of Mrs. Louise Westlake stilled as great a heart as ever felt the human appeal, and a willing hand that was ever outstretched to the less fortunate in life's unceasing grind. Whether in the cause of civic welfare, patriotic endeavor or in the dark hours of adversity, no appeal for aid ever met with other than prompt and generous response.

The widow bereft, the fatherless child, the aged sufferer will miss the generous heart of her and many a mother's boy prone on a hospital cot with shell-torn body or gas-wracked lungs will miss the comforts so freely dispensed by this departed friend.

Quietly and without ostentation or display this kindly soul ministered to the wants of the unfortunate regardless of caste, creed or condition.

Were it within the range of human possibilities to succor this soul on its journey to the Great Beyond, gladly would the message go forth, "Thy good deeds have gone before thee, be thou undismayed, for He who sees even the fall of the sparrow hath said 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me.'"

A FRIEND.

The oldest voter among women may be over a hundred, and proud of it, but more of them would rather be regarded as over twenty-one.

A lot of folks would like to be aroused some morning by hearing the winter's supply of coal making music through the chute to the cellar.

The candidate who has been accustomed to handing a man a cigar and slapping him on the back will have to think up some other way of impressing the women.

SO THE PEOPLE MAY KNOW

The CHIROPRACTORS of this State are asking you to help them regulate and raise the standard of their profession.

Under the present conditions the Medical Board refuses to examine and license CHIROPRACTORS and the Medical Board wishes this condition of chaos to continue, because they receive seventy-five (75) per cent of all fines levied against CHIROPRACTORS.

By voting Yes on NUMBER 5 you register your approval of the proper regulation of the practice of CHIROPRACTIC by a Board of Examiners composed of CHIROPRACTORS who are graduates of CHIROPRACTIC COLLEGES and not by Medical Men who Do Not study the science of CHIROPRACTIC in their Colleges and therefore know nothing about CHIROPRACTIC.

The BILL that the CHIROPRACTORS are asking you to vote YES on has demonstrated the merits of its provisions in many States.

Napoleon had always been a great reader, although he declared that in his public life he only read what was of direct use for his purposes, says Lord Roseberry in his "Napoleon, the Last Phase." The frequency of Napoleon's demands for books when he was a scholar at Brienne was the torment of the college librarian. "When I was a lieutenant of artillery," Napoleon said before the collected princes at Erfurt, "I was for three years in garrison at Valence. I spent that time in reading and re-reading the library there."

CLEVELAND'S COUSIN

DEATH OF MRS. JENNIE WARDELL, COUSIN OF EX-PRESIDENT CLEVELAND

On Friday morning, Oct. 22d, at Mrs. Allie Anderson's sanitarium, 1125 East California avenue, occurred the death of Mrs. Jennie F. Wardell, aged 95 years. She was formerly Miss Jennie Cleveland of Boston, Mass., a first cousin of ex-President Grover Cleveland. Early in 1861 she married Lieut. Wm. F. Wardell of the Union army, but her happiness was of brief duration for her husband was killed in battle a few weeks later. Lieut. Wardell was the hero of a romance of the war, "The Rebel's Daughter," a book written by Judge Wm. Woerner of St. Louis.

Soon after the close of the war the widow moved to Quincy, Ill., where she lived until 1890, when she chose San Francisco as her home. In the bay city and Reno, Nevada, she lived until three months ago, when she came to Hollywood to stay for a time with Edgar Bishop of Hollywood. The last few weeks of her life were spent with Mrs. Anderson.

The remains were in charge of the L. G. Scovern Co. by whom they were sent to San Francisco for interment beside the bodies of a nephew and niece, Marion and Miss Myer Strows.

Mrs. Wardell leaves a number of relatives, among them two nieces, Mrs. Alice C. Allen and Mrs. Elizabeth Bishop of Omaha, Neb.; two grandnephews, Harry and Charles Fogy of Reno, Nevada; two grand nieces, Mrs. Irene Martell and Mrs. Belle Maidell of San Francisco.

Spring Fever

It has occurred to a good many car owners that their batteries show almost human signs of a "sort of tired feeling" as summer advances. The starting motor seems to lack "pep." The lights show filaments that look like red hot hair-pins. The horn comes through with a low, varied groan instead of its usual warning blast.

If the owner who notices this feebleness is inclined to be charitable he says, "Of course! It's a wonder the battery isn't plumb dead after such a winter." If he is irritable, he's likely to forget its faithful service and say, "It never was any good any way." If he is thoughtful, he drives around to a battery service station and has the battery tested and recharged, or repaired, as may be necessary.

"There are a few wise drivers who let one experience with neglected batteries serve as a lesson," says Mr. Cizek, Willard Service Station Dealer, "but there are more who prefer to let the battery remind them time afer time that attention is needed."

Class Party

The Bible class of W. J. Clendenin of the Presbyterian church was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Davis, 240 North Louise, on Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Davis is president of the class. A delightful afternoon was spent in a program, games, refreshments and a social time. Twenty-seven of the class were present. Mr. Clendenin has been the teacher of this adult Bible class for many years and it is composed of a large number of women, many of whom are in the business world and were unable to be present during the afternoon.

In England Devonshire folk hold that it means death to bring into the house a single daffodil, when this flower first appears in the spring. There must be a bunch of them, and the cowslip is similarly hedged in by superstition. A hydrangea in the house "brings trouble," and snowdrops are "unlucky," while wild flowers generally prevent the first brood of chickens from hatching. If one wishes a plant indoors to show a large and profuse bloom he must place in the flowerpot some fresh earth from the grave of an infant baptized within twelve months. No yellow bloom should be brought into the house in May. The house with bergamot near it is never free from sickness. A plant of heliotrope in church will keep in their places any untrue wives in the congregation.

EX-DOUGHBOY TO MAKE LONG TRIP IN FORD CAR

The American Legion has made a wager of $5000 with A. Berhman, late of the American Expeditionary Forces, that he cannot tour every state in the Union, cross over to Europe, land in Italy, travel through Switzerland into France and reach Belgium in the time designated. All this territory must be covered inside of eighteen months if Mr. Berhman is to win the $5000 bet.

The only financial aid the American Legion has given this doughboy is a 1915 Ford car, which had been driven 67,000 miles by the Red Cross in ambulance service before it was turned over to him. Berhman took up the wager and on his 90th running day landed in Los Angeles, having covered 8000 miles to date and touring 26 states.

Under this contract he must make all his expenses and this he is doing by selling pictures and entertaining people by his amusing lectures of his experiences on the road. What with his Ford rigged up in "Pup Tent" fashion, his trick dog "Queen" and his unfailing good humor and ready wit, he is always the center of attraction wherever he goes.

So far, he reports his Ford has given him no mechanical trouble even though it has now traveled over 75,000 miles, but complains that rough roads eat up his tires in no time at all. He is counting on readily reaching his destination in Belgium ahead of time, for he is now many days ahead of his schedule.

Prices Declining

Prices of food products and wearing apparel are coming down and Glendale merchants are not slow to follow the decline. With fine Northern potatoes around $2.75 a hundred pounds, sugar at 13 cents, butter as low as 65 cents and other commodities in proportion, while cotton and woolen goods and shoes show consistent price declines, the day of exorbitant values seems to be past. Of course, merchants are taking some losses in meeting the price declines but they are cheerful about it, realizing that it is best for all concerned.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 30.—Marriage via the want ad route wasn't at all successful for Anthony Dolecki. He has filed a suit for annulment of his marriage to Marie Dolecki, who, he asserts, is Mrs. DeSnell, wife of an architect at Butte, Mont.

The complaint in the case relates that Dolecki was a bachelor and lonesome. Then a matrimonial paper fell into his hands and he saw the advertisement of a woman who claimed to be attractive, to have $17,000 and a desire to marry for love and companionship.

Dolecki claims that the woman, who came here to wed him, disappeared the day after the wedding with his suitcases, $100 worth of war savings stamps, $250 in cash, $6000 worth of mining stock and other articles belonging to him.

All his wife left him, Dolecki says, was a note, declaring she had been called to Chicago on account of the illness of a sister.

Mrs. Dolecki—or DeSnell—was brought back to Portland to face three criminal charges and was sentenced to one year in the county jail, but later was paroled.

AVALON, Cal.—Captain L. Ashbridge is whiling away his spare moments with a new pastime. He's fishing for his sea-going trousers.

These pants, however, are valuable. The pockets are lined with money—something over $300 in money, mostly silver.

Recently while he was fishing for fish he fell overboard from his motor boat. The boat kept on going. The money, a great deal of it being in silver, weighted him down and in order to save himself, he slipped off the trousers and let them sink.

SEATTLE, Wash.—C. W. Saleeby, scientist, who just arrived here from England, believes the whole world will be dry in fifty years.

England will be dry in ten years, he said.

"It will be a result of economic changes. Englishmen visiting the United States carry back stories of the workings of prohibition," asserted Saleeby. Lord Levelhulme, a shrewd business man, visited the United States a wet and returned a dry.

"At first Europe was surprised at the news that America was dry. Then came amusement. Newspapers carried hundreds of stories ridiculing America. Now Europe is beginning to see America in the true economic light. Europe is becoming impressed. The liquor interests are beginning to fight.

"Prohibition is gradually sweeping over the entire world as a result of the demand for increased economic efficiency and of conditions which force regulation of the liquor traffic. There are several well-defined steps in the battle for full prohibition.

Auto Thieves

There were 31,349 automobiles stolen in 19 "index" cities of the United States in 1919 compared to 25,613 in the same cities in 1918, according to figures compiled by the National Automobile Dealers' Association. This is an increase of 22.4 per cent. The figures were obtained from the official reports of the chiefs of police. Of the 31,349 stolen in 1919, 23,332 were recovered, 74.4 per cent. Of the 25,613 stolen in 1918, 20,203 were recovered, 78.8 per cent.

Cars stolen which were not recovered were valued at approximately $5,410,000 in 1918 and at $8,658,360, in 1919.

New York again led the cities in cars stolen with 5527 in 1919 against 3340 in 1918, an increase of 35.5 per cent. St. Louis was the only large city where the number was less than in 1918 This is accounted for by a vigorous law enforcement campaign against automobile thieves by the circuit attorneys office. Sentences up to 20 years have been assessed in St. Louis for the theft of an automobile.

General reduction in the number of automobiles stolen is expected during 1920 because of the fact that interstate transportation of stolen automobiles is made a Federal offense under the Dyer Law. The National Motor Vehicle Theft Law, however, did not become effective until November, 1919. Numerous convictions have been made throughout the Untied States under this act this year.

Harry G. Moock, general manager of the dealer organization, has written all district attorneys of the United States extending to them the services of the dealer organization in expediting the collection of information leading to conviction for thefts of motor vehicles.—Touring Topics.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

Great Aid to Progress

No other product of man's genius has proved generally beneficial in so many different ways as has the automobile. It is a utility of the highest value, a convenience the importance of which cannot be over-estimated, a medium of pleasure and health available to the majority of the people, and a spur to general progress.

Somebody complained the other day that so much is spent for luxuries charitable enterprises are starved, specifying among the "luxuries" automobiles for the purchase of which the United States is credited with paying $2,000,000,000 a year. But the federal tax on automobiles in the last fiscal year amounted to $144,000,000, while every one of the states derives a huge annual income from license fees exacted of motorists. Then, the automobile industry and related lines are factors of immense importance in the prosperity of the country as a whole and of every community in the land. Through the automobile's development there have been created a great variety of new demands that make for increased general business. Strike down this comparatively new industry and there would befall such a business blight as never has been imagined by the most gloomy of pessimists.

The automobile has waked up the country as nothing else has. It is responsible for more public improvements for the common benefit than anything else. The gradually emerging good roads system of this land is to be credited to it. And, thanks to the good roads, there is to be a better distribution of industries and population, since with motor truck transportation the country has become less dependent upon the railroads.

"Fixture" Not Picture

Griffin, the plumber, of 131 West Garfield avenue, said in his ad in the Evening News yesterday that "Good plumbing means more to your health, happiness and comfort than any other fixture in your home." The word "picture" appeared in the ad instead "fixture." While it is true a job of plumbing when completed by Griffin looks as neat as a beautiful picture yet it was intended that the word under consideration should read "fixture" and so should it be understood by the readers of the Evening News.

A lot of men never appreciate the advantage of saving money until they get down to their last cent.

STATE CONTESTS

NATIONAL ELECTION TO BE ACCOMPANIED BY MANY BITTER CONTESTS FOR STATE OFFICES

(By United Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—Practically all states will hold state elections Tuesday in connection with the presidential and congressional balloting. While a number of states will not elect governors, minor state officials and legislators are to be selected.

Special interest has been shown in the contests for governor in New York, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois and the near-northwest—the Dakotas-Minnesota-Wisconsin section.

New York Democrats hope to reelect Governor Alfred E. Smith, even if the state goes to Harding. It is generally conceded that Smith will run ahead of his ticket.

The Ohio contest had attracted attention due to its possible result and influence in that section on the presidential race. Donahey, now attorney general and the Democratic candidate, is making a strong appeal to the farming sections on an economy administration, while Harry L. Davis, former Mayor of Cleveland, is expected to run ahead in the cities.

In Illinois the state election is significant on account of the bitter factional fight between the Thompson and Lowden Republicans which has been partially healed before the Democratic offense by the withdrawal of Lieutenant-Governor Oglesby from the fight. However, the split shown during the primary has been the partial cause of ten candidates for governor going before the public and the Democrats claim that J. Hamilton Lewis has a good chance of election no matter how the state goes on the head of the ticket.

In the Northwest, the Non-Partisan league, by fusion or independent candidacy, has produced a condition that makes any forecast mere guesswork.

Missouri is held debatable ground and the factional feeling due to the attitude of the senators from Missouri—Reed, Democrat, and Spencer, Republican—against the League of Nations has crept into the entire political lineup of the campaign.

Here is a list of the states with their gubernatorial candidates:

Alabama—None.

Where Blame Lies

As a result of its investigation of public school teachers' salaries in all cities of over 8000 population, the United States Chamber of Commerce reports that they are "worse off" than before the war. And this despite the popular agitation of the subject of increased compensation and the action taken by the legislatures of several states. Another distressing disclosure of the nation-wide inquiry is the extremely limited experience of many teachers. Emergency teachers, lacking proper training for the work, are found filling most important positions. The report says they compose "an alarmingly large proportion" of those now in the classrooms. It was formerly accepted that teachers in the elementary schools should be at least graduates of standard normal schools, says the report, which means a two-year professional course following graduation from high school, but now "more than one-third of the teachers in American cities have less training than this low standard and there are thousands of teachers in our elementary schools who have even less preparation than is afforded by a four-year high school course.

The deficiency obviously is closely related to the matter of low remuneration. The poor compensation is responsible for the gaps in the ranks of teachers which must be filled in some way. The blame rests not upon the poorly equipped emergency teachers, but upon the system which pays even the qualified teacher in many instances far less than the wages of the man who drives the dump cart or wields the pick and shovel.

Who can remember when a man could have ham and eggs regularly and turned to quail on toast for variety?

The business of making a failure of marriage will flourish less when men and women use their brains more than their tongues.

Compliments are so rare in the case of most persons that one can hardly be blamed for feeling a bit uppish over an occasional one.

The average man is more successful in living up to his ideas than to his ideals.

When a man works hard to get into politics he finds a lot of folks with a disposition to kick him out.

When a man sells out his so-called good name it is usually found that at least two persons are cheated.

ASK REMOVAL OF JAPANESE CONSUL IN L. A.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

The King of Yvetot

There used to be a little kingdom, down in Southern France, called Yvetot. It took up not much more than three good city blocks square. The king of France paid it a visit, with all the fuss that goes with such a celebration, away back in legendary days.

Now, the lord of Yvetot was a wise old owl, and he served up deep apple pie, or custard tarts, or whatever it is kings like for dessert, and tickled his nibs the king of France right merrily.

So the real king made him a little play king. And Yvetot was the world's smallest kingdom. Bye and bye in 1681, the king of Yvetot, began to feel his oats, and the real king of his day slapped him on the wrist by taking his kingship away.

But though you may think the joke is on the king of Yvetot, perhaps it is on the kings of France instead. For in France today when folk speak of a straw boss who tries to be a smart alek, they call him the king of Yvetot. But whoever now, in all the world, except it be in a history lesson, refers to a king of France?

Cling to Old Homes

The gray herons of Rotterdam, familiars of the city for centuries, have gradually, according to a correspondent of the Times of London, been pushed out of their old territories to make way for the growth of the port. The waters had been gathered into canals, the spaces began to dry, and little by little new streets built on piles invaded the heron ground. Herons, unlike storks, do not take to the dwellings of men, but they cling desperately to their nesting places, the elms and the willows of the boulevards. Finally ousted, they preserved but one refuge and that the Zoological gardens, which in 1857 was established on one of the reclaimed areas. Some of the herons were put in an aviary and some of the wild ones, watching the proceeding, set up house in the elms close by. And so it came about that Rotterdam Zoological gardens can proudly lay claim to a natural heronry in their gardens. But since 1857 Rotterdam has grown, and the parent birds have now four miles to fly to reach the waters for food for their nestlings. They cover the distance by day and night over the tramways, railways, and the noise and smoke of a city, the return to the nest marked by the usual outburst of welcoming cries from the voracious young.
